DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 6/8/04 have been fully considered but they do not place the application in condition for allowance. A new ground of rejection as follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-11, 14, 16-22, 25, 27-30, 32, and 35-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Di Caprio et al. (6,419,685). Di Caprio et al. disclose an angioplasty catheter as claimed (figures 1-13) comprising an inner tube (12), an outer tube (13), a balloon (20), an inflation lumen (23), a support block (16) having a plurality of fins (figs. 1-10), tapered distal region and a proximal region, wherein the support block is welded to the inner tube by adhesives (col. 8, lines 54-67). The introductory statement of intended use and all other functional statements have been carefully considered but are deemed not to impose any structural limitations on the claims distinguishable over components of the Di Caprio et al.'s catheter which is capable of being used as claimed if one desires to do so.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 12, 13, 15, 23, 24, 26, 31, 33, 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Di Caprio et al. (6,419,685). Although, Di Caprio et al. do not disclose the support block is coupled to the inner tube by injection molding, heat shrinking or laser bonding. It would have been obvious matter of design choice to modify the Di Caprio et al. reference by coupling the support block to the inner tube by injection molding, heat shrinking or laser bonding since the applicant has not disclosed that coupling the support block to the inner tube by injection molding, heat shrinking or laser bonding solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the support block would perform equally well with coupling by adhesive or injection molding, heat shrinking or laser bonding.
